Beginning of National Trial

What did the schools say?

"On the first day of school the classroom environment was set up to meet the needs of the student."

What did the teachers say?

"Had xxx not received this assistance I truly believe he wouldn't be as excited or comfortable with the transition into primary school. This has not only been a great service for him at school but he has been able to use much of what he has learned to develop relationships at school. He has become a confident boy with the help of this programme. Would also like to add that having this programme made me far more comfortable with the transition."

What did the schools report?

"Our goals and action plans were clear. We appreciated having ideas before the student started school"

What did the SENCO report?

"I cannot commend the team more highly for the way in which they ensured all parties were involved. The visit to the ECE centre was reassuring and highly valuable for all. Teacher and parental concerns prior to the enrolment did not arise."

What did the family share?

"I was really pleased with how xxx transition from kindergarten to school went. "

Xxx has settled in really well and I would recommend this process to anyone."

What did the ECE Centre share?

"We think it is a great program to help bridge the gap between early childhood and primary school."

What did the ECE Centre share?

"This was a first experience for us as a centre. I would love to see this continue and be the beginning of better steps of looking at the child holistically, and helping the transition to be as smooth as possible."

What did the RTLB say?

"ECE teachers have wonderful advice and suggestions to add as well as having good relationships with whanau."

What MOE say?

"Provided a pathway for both services to work together."

"A way to make sure the moderate needs children are achieving success."
